1 Norman Kiven ("Kiven") opposes as follows the Motion to Temporarily Hold Funds
2 Pending a Determination of the Proper Recipients (the "Motion") filed by debtor USA
3 Commercial Mortgage Company ("USA Commercial") and the related captioned debtors
4 (collectively, "Debtors") as follows:¹

5 INTRODUCTION

7 Kiven is an elderly individual that has lent over $1 million to approximately twelve 8 borrowers (the "Kiven Direct Loans").² USA Commercial contractually agreed to serve as 9 servicing agent on the Kiven Direct Loans. Kiven, as a Direct Lender on the Kiven Direct Loans, 10 has the right to his proportionate payment made by the borrowers on those Loans, and holds all 11 other rights as a Direct Lender in the underlying loans, promissory notes, and securing deeds of 12 trust and mortgages. Any interest payments that the borrowers make on Kiven Direct Loans, less 13 any servicing fees, are the property of Kiven and the other Direct Lenders. To the extent the 14 Kiven Direct Loans are paid off, the proceeds belong as well to Kiven and the other Direct 15 Lenders. USA Commercial serves as nothing more than a conduit for the payments from 16 borrowers to pass to the Direct Lenders.

18 In their Motion, Debtors ask this Court to enter an Order that not only radically modifies
19 the contractual relationship between Kiven and his borrowers, but the contractual relationship
20 between USA Commercial and Kiven as well. Further, Debtors ask this Court to authorize a 21 seizure, attachment, and then use of Kiven's property, i.e., the payments that USA Commercial 22 receives post-petition from borrowers, for their own operations. The Motion is not limited to the 23 funds that Debtors may have held as of the Petition Date, which Debtors allege cannot be traced
24

25 ¹ Attached as Exhibit A is a copy of the Agreement between counsel for Kiven and Debtors extending the objection
26 deadline to May 25, 2006.

27 ² The last account statement that Kiven received from USA Commercial identified the following twelve borrowers:
28 Anchor B, LLC, Castaic Partners III, ComVest Capital, Cornman Toltec 160, Fiesta USA/Stoneridge, Foxhill 216,
LLC, Gateway Stone, HFA-North Yonkers, Marquis Hotel, Mountain House, Ocean Atlantic, and Palm Harbor One
(the "Kiven Direct Loans"). Kiven is also a Direct Lender on the Bundy Canyon loan, which Debtors advise did not close prior to the Petition Date. Investigation continues as to whether Kiven is a Direct Lender on any other loans.

1 to the particular performing loan. Rather, Debtors ask this Court for authority to take Kiven's 2 property collected post-petition on performing loans (which can certainly be traced) and then hold 3 it and use a portion of it for their operations. Debtors justify their request to hold and use these 4 funds based on potential claims against Kiven. Granting such a request, however, violates the 5 Unites States Supreme Court's holding in Grupo Mexicano de Desarrollo, S.A. v. Alliance Bond
6 Fund, Inc., 527 U.S. 308 (1999), in which the Court prohibited such a pre-judgment attachment of 7 property.

9 For all these reasons, and as more fully set forth below, Kiven respectfully submits to this 10 Court that Debtors do not state any adequate legal basis for their Motion, requiring this Court to 11 deny the same.

13 ARGUMENT

14 I. This Court Does Not Have Authority to Authorize Debtors to Hold and Use Kiven's 15 Property Before Debtors' Alleged Potential Claims are Brought to Judgment

16 In Grupo Mexicano de Desarrollo, S.A. v. Alliance Bond Fund, Inc., 527 U.S. 308 (1999),
17 the Supreme Court found that the district court acted beyond its power in enjoining defendant
18 from transferring its assets prior to entry of any judgment in favor of plaintiffs on their contract
19 claims for money damages. The Supreme Court chose to "follow the well-established general 20 rule that a judgment establishing the debt was necessary before a court of equity would interfere 21 with the debtor's use of his property." Id. at 321 (emphasis added). Where a general creditor 22 (i.e., one without a judgment) does not have a "cognizable interest, either at law or in equity, in 23 the property of his debtor," the creditor, under this general rule, cannot interfere with the debtor's
24 use of that property. Id. at 320.³

27 ³ Other Direct Lenders have ably argued to this Court why the proceeds from these loans are not part of Debtors' 28 estate under Section 541(d) of the Code. In particular, the Motion filed by the Jones Vargas firm on behalf of other Direct Lenders on May 11, 2006 (Docket No. 208) articulates why the borrower payments are not property of Debtors' estates. Kiven adopts, in part, Jones Vargas' argument at pages 5-7.

1 In this case, USA Commercial has no interest (equitable or otherwise) in post-petition
2 borrower payments made by borrowers on Kiven's Direct Loans.⁴ Yet, Debtors request that this 3 Court authorize them to seize and then use the borrower payments that are owned by Kiven and 4 the other Direct Lenders. The first and principal justification for this extraordinary relief that 5 Debtors seek in their Motion -- that the Debtors may have claims against certain Direct Lenders --
6 directly contravenes the holding in Grupo Mexicano. There is nothing "inequitable", as Debtors 7 allege in their Motion, in requiring USA Commercial to comply with its obligations to Kiven and 8 pay over to Kiven and the other Direct Lenders the post-petition payments USA Commercial 9 received as servicing agent on performing Kiven Direct Loans. Unless and until this Court enters 10 a judgment in favor of Debtors, and against Kiven, and Debtors then request and receive the 11 appropriate post-judgment relief, this Court cannot deprive Kiven of his property based on the 12 possible claims that Debtors may (or may not) have against him.⁵

15 There is no question that the borrowers owe Kiven and the other Direct Lenders directly 16 on the Kiven Direct Loans. The post-petition payments that borrowers make on those Loans
17 belong to Kiven and the other Direct Lenders, not Debtors. By requesting that this Court 18 authorize them to seize and use Kiven's property, Debtors ask this Court to authorize actions in 19 contravention of Supreme Court precedent. The Motion must be denied.

21 II. The Legal Authority that Debtors Cite in the Motion Does Not Take Precedence 22 Over Supreme Court Case Law and is Otherwise Readily Distinguishable

23 Debtors erroneously rely upon the non-binding case, In re Builders Capital Services, Inc., 24 317 B.R. 603 (Bankr. W.D.N.Y. 2004), to support the proposition that the notes and mortgages at 25 issue are rendered property of the estate due to Debtors' "equitable" interest in them. As

26 ⁴ To the extent Debtors hold equitable liens on the borrower payments collected prior the Petition Date (that cannot 27 be adequately traced) for the benefit of all Direct Lenders, the same does not apply to payments collected post-petition that can be traced to the particular performing loan.

28 ⁵ If and when Debtors file an adversary proceeding against Kiven, they can rely upon Rule 64 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, made applicable by Bankruptcy Rule 7064, and Nevada's pre-judgment attachment statute and seek to seize Debtors' property to the extent grounds exist for doing so.

1 articulated in the Opposition filed by James Corison (Docket No. 215), which Kiven adopts in 2 part, the court based its holding largely upon a lack of an agency relationship between the third 3 party lenders and the non-debtor parties that entered into the mortgages (not the debtor with 4 which the agency relationship existed). Id. at 608-609. In this case, all the Loan Servicing 5 Agreements on Kiven Direct Loans were between USA Commercial and Kiven. Accordingly, 6 unlike in Builders Capital, the mortgages and trust deeds did create a legal interest for the benefit 7 of the Direct Lenders.

9 Kiven also has direct a debtor/creditor relationship with the borrowers (not Debtors) under 10 the loan agreements, which makes the cases In re Lemons & Associates, Inc., 67 B.R. 108 (Bankr.
11 D. Nev. 1986) and In re Sprint Mortgage Bankers Corp., 164 B.R. 224, (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 1994),
12 distinguishable. Kiven does not have an assigned participation interest in the Kiven Direct Loans 13 as did the “investors” in Sprint Mortgage and Lemons; he is the “Lender” on his deals. The 14 Sprint Mortgage and Lemons courts investigated whether or not these participation interests were 15 “loans” to the broker or “sales of an interest in a note” (i.e. true loan participation agreements). In 16 this case, Kiven and the other Direct Lenders made the loans and are the “lenders” on the various 17 deals. USA Commercial merely acted as the servicing agent.

19 Lastly, Debtors’ reliance upon the Ninth Circuit case of Fireman’s Fund Ins. Cos. v.
20 Grover (In re The Woodson Co.), 813 F.2d 266 (1987), is misplaced. Woodson involved a debtor
21 mortgage broker that assigned participation interests in various loans to “investors.” The Ninth 22 Circuit found that the “investors” made loans to the debtor mortgage broker, rather than the third-23 party borrowers, because the investors “possessed none of the usual indicia of ownership.” Id. at 24 272. Those are not the facts of this case; Kiven is the Direct Lender and holds the security on the 25 Kiven Direct Loans in his own name. In addition to these factual distinctions, Woodson was an 26 adversary proceeding in which the court declared the nature of interest in various notes and trust 27

1 deeds. A similar examination of the legal nature of the Kiven Direct Loans may someday come
2 before this Court. But until that ruling is made, this Court does not have authority to freeze
3 Kiven's property based on a potential future ruling on Debtors' equitable liens on the trust deeds
4 and mortgages.⁶

7 For all the reasons set forth herein, Kiven respectfully requests that this Court deny the 8 Motion to Temporarily Hold Funds Pending a Determination of the Proper Recipients.

26 ⁶ This Court can deny the Motion and Debtors could still comply with Nev. Rev. Stat. § 645B.175(5). Upon USA
27 Commercial's receipt of payments on a given loan, USA Commercial shall pay out pro-rata to all the Direct Lenders 28 on that performing loan, ensuring compliance with Nevada law. It is without moment that certain Direct Lenders are also lenders in non-performing loans. Nev. Rev. Stat. § 645B.175(5) is limited to a particular serviced loan and, for the reasons stated, any potential claims for pre-petition payments on non-performing loans do not justify withholding payments post-petition on performing ones.
